OUR TOWN

The Houston Post-Dispatch is kicking up a fuss over the apparent indifference of Democratic voters. The paper sees vast numbers of recreant party men going over to its fellow townsman, Col. Haines, the Republican candidate for Governor. The Houston Post-Dispatch should know better than anyone else how hard it is to gain a Republican victory in Texas for with all its efforts it could not bolster enough strength to elect Dr. Butt in 1924 when Mrs. Ferguson was the nominee of the party which the Post-Dispatch then sought to destroy and is now trying to save.

The apparent indifference of Democratic voters as to the November elections is nothing new in Texas. Unless there is some campaign to bring a division of sentiment, the voting is light. In July the Texas Republicans polled about 10,000 votes. In November they will poll about 100,000. There is no division in the Democratic ranks this year. The party will stand behind Dan Moody for governor and will elect him. This is not said to add to the self satisfaction of the party over the results in November. We should have a big vote. No good democrat should stay away from the polls because he is dissatisfied with the nominees of his party. As for us we are for Mr. Moody for Governor against Haines the Republican, and we are for all the Democratic ticket, thus proving our democratic stewardship better than the Post-Dispatch has done in the past.

Texas bankers in meeting at Dallas say they have formed a finance corporation with a working capital of one hundred million dollars to finance Texas cotton crop. The Federal government operating through the Coolidge administration has issued a statement to the farmers with the caution that no alarm be felt over the situation. All of which forms the basis of what may be termed good intentions but we need action and we should have had some sort of relief sixty days ago.

The farmer can expect little aid from the government or any of the corporate endeavors for his benefit this year. To be sure the cotton market will advance but that will be long after the farmer has closed out his cotton. Truth of the matter is that even now, little cotton is in the hands of the farmer. He not only did not anticipate assistance from these sources to help him hold, but he had to sell to satisfy mortgages to the bank. The banks have the cotton, or it is in the hands of the exporter, spinner and buyer. The farmer has no cotton, except that left in the fields and it is questionable whether he can gather it. As long as the farmer has to sell immediate harvestings to satisfy mortgages just so long will he be at the mercy of the corporate interests. If the government and the banks had started the movement to help in May instead of mid-October there would have been good results. Now the movement will only serve to help those who do not raise cotton but by their financial strength control its price and disposition.

Cotton will go higher, much higher, but not until it has been taken out of the hands of the farmers.

Recently the commercial club named a number of new directors. Since the date of the election some of them have not attended a single meeting. The commercial club is good for one meeting a year—the semi-annual one at which a good crowd gathers to hear a few men speak to the resounding clap of hands and approving smiles. The speakers are elected directors—are given all the honors of the club, but plodding ones, the halt and the lame, do the work, attend all the weekly meetings and sweat over the problems. It is much insincere profession. Reminds us of a certain fellow who makes good speeches about buying at home but never spent a nickle with local firms or plants for anything that he can buy out of town.

Phoenicians driven to the shores of Syria built fires on the sand, using blocks of natron instead of rocks to support their kettles. The natron blocks melted and flowed over the hot sand. Carbonate of soda from the natron fused with the sand and glass resulted.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS ARE URGED TO VOTE NOVEMBER 2

ACCIDENTS TAKE TOLL OF THREE LIVES IN COUNTY

STATE PARTY CHAIRMAN SENDS APPEAL TO VOTE

W. G. GILLIS PASSES MESSAGE TO DEMOCRATS OF MILAM TO VOTE NOVEMBER 2

W. G. Gillis, county chairman of the Democratic party has received an appeal from Chairman Wilcox of the state committee in which the Democrats are asked to vote on election day, Nobemver 2.

It is important for the vote to be large as this showing will increase our party representation.

Here is the message given out by the state chairman through Judge Gillis:

D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, has issued a statement urging a full Democratic vote on November 2nd. The statement is as follows:

"The claim of the Republican party that it has a good chance of electing its state ticket, I feel sure is not made seriously, but that it is a claim and the fact that the Republican Party is making a vigorous campaign, will doubtless cause every Republican to vote. Certainly the Republican Party can never hope for success in Texas. Our loyalty to the Democratic party is not purely sectional, but the interests, industries and activities of the people of Texas are best secured by the principals of our party. The people of Texas realize that the policies of the Republican party enacted into law mean economic distress in Texas, while the principles of the Democratic party insure prosperity to industries of this state. By reason of the matters above mentioned, every Democrat should go to the polls on November 2nd, and vote the straight Democratic ticket. Eight hundred thousand Democrats voted in the primaries and all of them should vote in the general election.

"In 1928 we will have two state conventions, one to select delegates to the National Convention, and the other the regular state convention. The vote of each county in these conventions will be determined by and in proportion to the vote cast on November 2nd for the Democratic nominee for governor. The larger the vote in any county is for Dan Moody, the larger will be the vote of the county in the conventions.

"It appears now that we will have a Democratic majority in the next Congress, and we will also gain some seats in the United States Senate. If the Democrats get control of the House, Congressmen from Texas will be chairmen of ten of the most important committees. Under these circumstances, Texas will be in a position to wield a mighty influence in the National councils of the Party. A large vote for the ticket in the general election will strengthen this influence and a small vote will weaken it. Every loyal Democrat should go to the polls and vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom. We urge them to do so and believe they will, and thereby demonstrate again that Texas is the banner Democratic state.

PALESTINE MAN EMPLOYED BY COLEMAN-EPLEN COMPANY HERE

Mr. South has arrived in Cameron and taken charge of the directing of the business, beginning his services on October 21.

He has had wide experience as an undertaker, having been at various times in the service of Rudolph Bros., Waxahachie and with the L. C. Puckett funeral home in Waco; with the J. I. Riddle funeral home at Mexia during the oil boom. For the past two years he has been employed by the Ezzell Undertaking Company in Palestine.

Mr. South has a family. He says he is well pleased with Cameron, having made many friends in the short time he has been in the city.

ELBERT MARTIN SOUGHT; MISSSING FROM HOME

REWARD OFFERED BY SHERIFF FOR WHEREABOUTS OF YOUNG MAN

Elbert Martin with the local postal service for the past six years, has been missing from his home here since Thursday, October 21.

Sheriff Blaylock Wednesday mailed out cards announcing a reward for the whereabouts of the young man who left his family and small daughter who did not suspect hi sdeparture until Friday following his disappearance.

Mr. Martin is said to have driven his Chevrolet touring car, taking his clothes and personal effects with him. No cause has been assigned for his leaving his home and his position with the post office. A check up at the office shows that Mr. Martin's record has been good and there is nothing against him.

His wife is unable to explain his departure and is deeply grieved under the strange circumstances. Mr. Martin had been in bad health for some time, never fully recovering from typhoid fever in 1925.

One report reaching Cameron said that he was seen passing through Thorndale. This, according to local people interested in the search, indicates he may have planned to go to San Antonio and to the Mexican border for a trip into that country.

Any information will be appreciated by the family and sheriff Blaylock. Martin is a small man, weighing about 125 pounds and slender, is of dark complextion, brown hair and is driving a 1925 Chevrolet touring car.

CITY IS ASKED FOR MARKET HOUSE HERE

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS MARKET FOR FARMERS TO SELL THEIR PRODUCE

The city of Cameron is asked by the commercial club to build a market house to be known as a public or municipal market where farmers may come in season and sell their produce.

The plan is for the city to secure a vacant lot somewhere close in and to roof over the plot and provide a place for the display of produce. This market to be operated on the plan of the markets found in other cities of Texas.

A nominal rent, it is said could be charged and the market space made self supporting. This detail and others however, could be worked out in the event the city should undertake the proposition.

A committee from the club composed of J. B. White, F. J. Beckerman, and R. H. McIntosh has been asked to appear before the council on Tuesday, November 2 to ask for the construction of the market.

GEORGE S. MANGUM IS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

PIONEER RESIDENT HERE IS DEAD AFTER ILLNESS OF FOUR WEEKS

Funeral services for George S. Mangum, pioneer resident of Cameron were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor.

Death came to Mr. Mangum following a long period of illness in which his condition became more critical as the days went by.

The death of Mr. Mangum occasioned widespread sorrow for he had lived for many years in Cameron and Milam county and during these years had become widely known and as the funeral hour approached the church building was packed to capacity by friends from a wide section of the country who came to pay him tribute for the inspiring life he lived among them.

George S. Mangum had lived in Cameron for 45 years, rearing a family here and contributing in a large way to the civiliation that has endured for nearly a half century. He was born in Madison county, Kentucky, February 21, 1851 th eson of John Mangum who was a native of North Carolina. When a young man he came to Texas, settling at Lexington in Lee county where he was with the Hardcastle Drug Company for a long period of time.

At the time of his death Mr. Mangum was 75 years, eight months and two days of age. For a number of years he was with the Robert McLane company of Cameron, held in esteem by the organization of that company as in all his business experience.

As a single man he came to Cameron 45 years ago to begin his life career. He married Miss Lucy Grantham who as his wife has been an inspiration to him in the long years he has lived, ministering in tender care in his last illness and bearing the sorrow of his departure.

He is survived by his widow, and four children as follows: John E. Mangum, Wiley Mangum, Miss Grace Mangum and Mrs. George T. Graves, all of Cameron. The wife and their children were about him when he answered the summons to the great beyond, going out in the faith in which he had lived, in peace and happy con-

Many congratulations have come to R. L. Batte from a wide section over his success in opening the new mill of the Cameron Cotton Oil Company.

"Words fail me," said the veteran business man, "when I try to express my real feelings. I am grateful for this esteem in which my life as well as my commercial efforts are held by the people of this community. I am proud that the assessment put upon my efforts are more than commercial in their conception, however great may be the progress of the mill. Many things were said by the people in that section of your paper that will live with me always. I am deeply grateful for these expressions of good will."

About one hundred copies of the Herald have been mailed to various portions of the state by Mr. Batte to his friends. The edition has been completly sold out, many calls coming in from other sources.

TWO DIE FROM AUTO CRASHES; 1 ON RAILS

YOUNG MAN CRUSHED—INFANT KILLED IN CRASH ON HIGHWAY

Three people are dead from accidents in Milam County this week.

They are:

William Duitt.

Will Cole, negro.

Baby Garcia, infant.

The infant was almost instantly killed Tuesday night while riding with its mother and father and three others in a Ford touring car with Chas. Sens, constable. They were on their way to Rockdale, riding with Mr. Sens. The accident was unavoidable so far as can be learned.

As described by theconstable, he was going to Rockdale and an automobile, empty and unseen by the constable, was standing by the side of the road. A car approaching with bright lights, blinded him so that he crashed into the empty car at the right. It seems the empty car was on the wrong side of the road. As the car approaching Mr. Sens, drew near, he said the lights were so bright he could not see far enough in front to have detected the empty car. When the crash came the car in which Mr. Sens and Mexicans were riding was overturned. The infant, whose given name we did not learn, was killed. Others of the family were painfully injured and Mr. Sens suffered bruises and a wrenched back.

William Duitt, a young man, engaged in work in the local oil fields was fatally injured on the Rockdale road while riding the running board of a Dodge car with companions, according to reports received here. Another car attempting to pass them on a bridge forced the car near the rail and the young man's head was crushed against the timber. He was brought to Cameron but died without gaining consciousness. He was a native of the county. The accident occured between Minerva and Rockdale. His skull was crushed and a leg broken in two places. Nothing further could be learned about the accident or the exact residence of the young man. The family has the deep sympathy of the people.

Will Cole, 45, negro, employed at the compress, was fatally injured caught under a moving train in the switch yards at the compress. Both legs were severed and the negro died at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. No one knows how the accident occured. Cole had been an employe of the compress for about ten years.

SOCIETY TABLOID AT COTTON PALACE

Waco, Texas.—The usual high standard of second week attractions in the coliseum at the Texas Cotton Palace will be greatly augmented this year as special endeavors are being made to excel even the first week attractions, the Thaviu Band and grand opera artists, in interest.

The decision to present each show carded for both the first and second week of the exposition, without charge, is something new in the amusement world, especially in view of the fact that the Thaviu organization is recognized as being composed of outstanding artists of this and other countries. Then in termination, the second week of typical Cotton Palace presentations, including the children's program on Monday night, coronation of the Queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace on Tuesday night, the reception by the king and queen on Wednesday night, and the presentation of the debutantes of Waco and the Southwest, offers a variety of entertainment and display of Southwestern beauty and court splendor, which is destined to be unrivaled, even by previous presentations at the Cotton Palace.

The Wednesday night program really furnishes an opportunity for those unable to witness the coronation to see the king and queen and the royal court, assembled again for the purpose of doing honor to the king and queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace, and to receive in royal fashion the debutantes of the season.

Other coliseum attractions are being formulated for the closing days of the exposition and all these with those above are what the Cotton Palace management has provided as free attractions. Any other coliseum attractions will likewise be free. The person who pays his admission at the front gate is entitled to come and go at will for any and all of the coliseum programs.

Big Second Week Program

Officials for the Greater Cotton Palace of 1926 are concentrating their energy on the program for the second week, which includes the Queen's Coronation, the women's day program, the children's day program, and many other important social attractions; indispensable features which have grown with the exposition. The Queen's Coronation is to be this year bigger and of more outstanding prominence in the way of international distinction than ever before.

Of especial interest in exhibits this year will be the Silver Fox exhibit. The association has secured from the Genesee Mountain Silver Fox Farm near Denver, Colo., a large number of the Fox family, known as the silver fox, and whose pelts are considered by furriers as the most valuable of fox pelts. The exhibit of these cunning and sleek little animals is expected to attract men, women and children.

Concession space at this year's exposition is already at a premium in view of the excellent year for both business and pleasure, which is just ahead. Manufacturers and jobbers of materials and implements are rushing for space, and in view of the crowded conditions of every available concession space at last year's show, this promises to exceed even the wildest expectations of the officials.

Classical and popular numbers are interspersed in the various band programs Thaviu's musical stars. This famous organization will appear during the entire week of the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, at Waco, beginning October 23.

In addition to twenty high-class shows, there will appear on amusement row, at the Cotton Palace, Waco, this year eight thrilling rides and a number of fun houses. Sixteen days, beginning October 23.

A new two-cent postage stamp is being issued by the Post Office Department to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the battle of White Plains.

An oaken gibbet from which men were hanged in public for sheep stealing as late as the year 1500 is preserved over the main entrance of a bank at Ruthin, Wales.

Gossiping wives of Custrin, Belguim, are jailed by husbands who invoke the revival of an old medival law to keep their wives in hand.

THE SLACKER

No one enjoys being called a slacker. Any true American, if so accused, will deny it and declare his love for the flag and his country, and his willingness to fight at any time in their behalf, if the need arises.

But in times of peace and prosperity it is likely to be forgotten that there are many ways of being a slacker besides that of not fighting for the defense of the country. Many evils arise that are almost as dangerous to the continuity of this government as an invading army. Indifference towards them will cause the overthrow of the principles upon which the American system of administration is based almost as quickly. Because they are more latent, does not necessarily mean that they are less dangerous.

Chief among these is the increasing lethargy of the citizens of this country towards exercising their right of franchise. That there is an increasing apathy towards this most important duty of the citizen is made apparent when one is confronted with the realization that in the last two elections less than fifty per cent of the eligible votes have been polled, despite some organized efforts to get out the vote, while from 1880 to 1896 practically eighty out of every hundred eligible voters went to the polls; also when it is recalled that once America led the world in getting out the largest percentage of voters. Now it can almost be said that the world leads America.

In a representative form of government such a tendency is alarming. President Coolidge said:

The perilous aspect of this situation lies in its insidiousness. With the broadening of popular powers the direct election of practically all public officials, and the direct nomination of most of them, there is no opportunity for an expression of the public will except at the ballot box.

It is perfectly evident that all those who have selfish interests will go to the polls and will be active and energetic in securing support for their proposals and their candidates. The average voter supports what he believes to be the public interest. Unless they appear on election day, that interest will go unrepresented.

If the United States is to continus to hold its place as one of the leading powers of the world, if it is to continue as a republic "of the people, for the people and by the people," we must awake to this lurking danger, and must quickly find means to expedite the elimination of this menace.

It has been suggested that the men ganize efficient bodies to arouse inter- and women of every community orest in voting, and secure means of eliminating this evil.

Let every citizen remember his duties and obligations to his country, so that he may rightfully resent being termed a slacker, and vote the coming selections so as to insure the selection of the best and most capable men to fill the public offices; men that will not be devoted to local and selfish interests, but men that will do their best to handle public affairs in a manner that will be most beneficial to the country as a whole.—Scottish Rite News.

THE SPORT BOWL
By
FRANK V. MONDRIK

The rampaging Texas Longhorns stampeded the Rice Owls last Saturday in a sea of mud. The heavy Owl machine could not get started, and the lighter, faster Longhorn aggregation piled up a decisive score in the first half of the game. The last half was almost evenly matched, Texas having a slight edge. Coarh Stewart sent in many of his subs in the last half for their first taste of artion in a Conference game.

Slover, Texas End, did some beautiful punting, and many of his long punts came at the crucial parts of the game, once punting for seventy-two yards from behind his own goal line.

"Raming" Rufus King ran wild the first half, knifing the Rice defense consistently to score the first touchdown and running 75 yards for the second touchdown, a few minutes later, after a pass. Saxon played his usual brilliant game, stiff-arming his way for several long gains. "Tiny" Gooch, a tower of strength, was easily the star of the Texas line. Upon several occasions he smeared Rice plays and threw the opposing backs for losses.

A. & M., with the most brilliant offence in its history, outplayed the S. M. U. Mustangs at the Fair Park Stadium. S. M. U. played a more heady game than the Aggies and had the punch at the physchological moments while the Aggies played more or less recklessly. Although Hunt's headwork comes in for criticism, his play was spectacular. slashing and crashing through the S. M. U. forward wall, he gained about 200 yards, almost two-thirds of the total yardage that A. &. M. amassed.

Both Mann of the Mustangs and Hunt of the Aggies made a bid for All Conference honors in Saturday's fray. Cortemeglia, "the wonderful Wop" played a stellar game on the defense, making several great tackles.

The coming Saturday should prove whether or not the Baylor Bears have an eleven of championship caliber when they meet the Texas Aggies. The Aggies are doped to win, but reports have come from the Bear camp stating that the Bruins have improved their eleven one hundred percent in the last three weeks.

The Steer Harriers were defeated last Friday 33 to 23 by the Aggie team in a duel meet. Captain Miller of Texas ran in great form, finishing first in the time of 21 minutes and 4 seconds.

Nelson Green, who has shown championship caliber in daily training, developed stitches in the side and was forced out of the race after he had led the field for two miles. Green was Yoe High's former premier long distance runner, and if he is in condition by the time of the Conference Meet, he should emulate his High School feats.

The S. M. U.-Texas U. clash, October 30, at the Texas Memorial Stadium should go a long way to decide the Conference Championship. Texas has developed a great pass defense, as was shown in the Vanderbilt game, and the Mustangs will meet rough going via the aerial route. Both elevens have great backfields and stellar lines. S. M. U. is touted to win, but Texas has the Mustangs on Longhorn territory, and that goes a long way in deciding a victory.

A gain Captain Washmon's "educated toe", which beat the Texas Aggies last year, played a prominent role in the Oklahoma Aggie-T. C. U. tilt, giving T. C. U. a 3 to 0 edge over the fighting Oklahoma Aggies.

THE FINISH OF THE RACE

An Essay By
FRANK V. MONDRIK

The great race is on! Gruelling, breath-taking work! The cinder track below the flying feet of man moves steadily backward. The race is nearing the finish. The racer's heart is pounding and the blood is throbbing through his head. A mist blurs his eyes. Short, gasping breaths rack his lungs; his legs are leaden and his lungs are almost bursting.

Far behind someone drops out. Other runners lag more and more. They see that the race will be won by the man in front of them. They feel as if they haven't a chance and mumble to themselves, "Aw, what's the use." They started the race, but quit before they finished.

Do you start anything and fail to finish it? If one starts a thing, one should go into it with the determination to see it through, to believe in it strong enough to finish it. Some people begin their pursuits like a flashing meteor that trails its flaming lace across the sky for one moment of glory and then fades in the blackness of obscurity. They do not have the satisfaction of completing a thing. They work zealously until their work reaches an apex, then suddenly lose interest, and let it fall through. They have worked, that is true, but has this work been useful or to any avail?

None of us are perfect! We all make mistakes. We all give up pursuits, sometimes in despair, sometimes because of the lack of interest on our part. Yet the man who "sticks to a thing till the end" will eventually attain the cherished goal of fame or what not.

Chevrolet Motor Co. Owns World's Hardest Diamond

The hardest diamond in the world is the property of the Chevrolet Motor Company which has used the big diamond continuously during the last 10 years in the dressing of abrasive wheels for precision grinding necessary to meet the Chevrolet standards of accuracy.

Due to its extreme hardness, "C-66" as the gem is prosaically designated in the Chevrolet records, has outlived $200,000 worth of diamonds used by the company.

F. W. Smith, grinding engineer of the General Motors corporation, and inventor of a patented method for setting grinding diamonds, contends that "Old C-66" is a freak.

"It is a South African black ballas diamond originally weighing about 30 carats," he said. "Today, after 10 years of continuous service in truing the grinding wheels used on piston jobs, it still weighs 25 carats. An ordinary grinding diamond would have worn out years ago. 'Old C-66' is so hard that it requires resetting only about three times a year. Only diamond truing will give the absolute accuracy essential on a wheel used in sizing such important parts as engine bearings and pistons."

In his patented method of setting exterior with copper which forms a diamonds he first electro-plates the union so close as to be invisible even under 1,000 magnifications. A circuler recess in a steel slug used to hold the diamond in the wheel-truing machine is then filled with molten fuse immersed in the metal which hardens metal. The copper plated diamond is leaving exposed about one-third of the gem's surface.

This core of fuse metal gives the diamond complete protection against damaging high temperatures which might result should the grinding mechanic fail to play water upon the diamond while it is truing a wheel. The fuse metal will melt and release the diamond at 670 F or 250 degrees below a temperature that might injure its surface.

After being placed in the grinding machine under a stream of water, the diamond is moved slowly back and forth against the surface of the wheel which revolves at a speed of 6,500 feet or more than a mile per minute. The even friction of the diamond dresses the face of the wheel smooth and true. The wheel then is used in grinding operations upon bearongs pistons and other important engine parts to which it confers the unvarying microscopic accuracy demanded by the standards department as Chevrolet's assurance of reliable service and long life.

SAPIRO TO SPEAK IN TEMPLE ON OCT. 30

ADDRESS OF CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING EXPERT IS MOVED UP

The speaking engagement of Aaron Sapiro, co-operative marketing expert in Temple has been changed from November 6 to Saturday afternoon, October 30, at 2 p. m. at the Temple theatre, it was announced Tuesday night by C. V. Robinson, county field director of the Farm Bureau Association.

This change was made necessary by conditions arising that will call Mr. Sapiro from the state not later than Saturday night. A number of his engagements in the state have been cancelled.

He attended the national cotton conference in Washington with President Coolidge. Mr. Sapiro and President John T. Orr of the cotton association represented the Farm Bureau at the conference and both will be here at the meeting Saturday to discuss the cotton situation.

All farmers and their wives and also business men are urged to hear Mr. Sapiro here Saturday as he is one of the outstanding attorneys today specializing in marketing problems. His home is in San Francisco and in California he was employed by the various co-operative associations. He was employed by the Texas Farm Bureau in setting up the cotton and wool associations and had a very large part in organizing these. He has worked with wheat, tobacco and other co-operatives but is especially well versed in cotton after many years of study of it. He says that cotton is the most easily handled of all commodities attempted by co-operative action for orderly marketing as it is a staple commodity.—Temple Telegram.

Constipation! How to Keep Bowels Regular

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

A Word Of Appreciation

I am deeply grateful for the many messages of congratulations and good wishes in the special edition of The Herald last week on the completion of the new mill of the Cameron Cotton Oil Company.

The messages as printed in that edition came as a most pleasing surprise to me as I had not anticipated such a large volume of praise for my efforts.

These messages and these congratulations came from varied sources and I sincerely appreciate them. I had rather have the good will and the well wishes of my friends and neighbors than to achieve the greatest of all commercial successes.

While it is pardonable in me, I am sure, to feel proud of the great, new mill which has been put in operation in Cameron, I appreciate more than I can express the profound greetings that come to me and the evident good will and appreciation of my efforts on the part of the business interests and citizens of Cameron.

Sincerely,

GOVERNOR DECLINES TO ASK ACREAGE CUT

FARMERS GETTING TOO MUCH ADVICE FROM THOSE WHO DO NOT KNOW

Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—Expressing the opinion "the farmer is getting too much advice from those who either lack experience in cotton raising or who are acting too fast," Governor Miriam A. Ferguson stated Monday she would not at this time issue a proclamation calling on the farmers of Texas to reduce their cotton acreage.

The governor's declaration came in reply as to whether she would issue a proclamation calling for a 25 per cent acreage reduction and designating a cotton acreage reduction week. In line with recommendations of the recent Memphis cotton conference.

"I shall not issue any proclamation of this kind at this time," she said. "As a cotton farmer, as well as an official, I do not think I am justified in issuing such a proclamation at this time, as conditions may so change the situation as to make such advice improper.

"I think the farmer is getting too much advice from those who either lack experience in cotton raising or who are acting too fast in solving this great crises that confronts the cotton raiser. For months the Dallas News has been shouting loud and long urging the farmer to raise more cotton on less acres, and now they have changed front and are urging the farmer to plant less acres and I suppose they want him to raise more cotton. They have not explained the apparent inconsistency of their position.

"It is several months yet until planting time and nobody knows now for sure just how much cotton will finally show up for market. I am sure there is going to be a great damage to cotton on account of bad weather and continued rains and a great percent of the crop is bound to be low grade.

"When all these facts are in, it may be apparent that cotton will bring around 12 1-2 cents per pound for the next crop. If such is the case then I ask what crop would these self-appointed advisors who are resoluting and telling the farmer what to do. What will become of the small farmer who can only get credit on a cotton crop for his supplies when he tells his banker or his merchant that his cotton crop will be cut from 50 acres to 37 1-2 acres?

"Talk is cheap, but facts are facts. We hear a great deal about willingness of the Federal Reserve Bank and the big bankers to help the poor farmers, but the people had just as well know the facts now, and that is that the Federal Reserve bank will not loan a dollar on cotton until it is in bonded warehouses and with the indorsement of banks and the banks will not loan a dollar on cotton until the farmer has already sold it to a cotton buyer, and whatever aid the banks are extending or are willing to extend is not any help to the middle man and this would do no good toward helping the price of cotton.

"I am not overstating the facts and if any farmer doubts it just let him go down to the banks and try to get any money on his cotton on his farm or try to get any money from the Federal Reserve bank. I am not going to take the responsibility to advise at this time a reduction of 25 per cent of the cotton crop, when I do not know and no one else knows the condition that will exist at planting time. What I would advise any farmer friends to do is to prepare to get themselves a sow, a cow and a hen. Live at home as much as possible and when we raise some cotton next year, possibly we will not owe so many debts, and then we can hold our cotton and be forced to sell it until we are offered a fair price for it. What I want to emphasize to my farmer friends is that we are going to have to work out our own salvation. The price of cotton can not be fixed by resolutions, but it will be fixed by the ability of the farmer to hold as well as the amount of cotton he raises. Lets study well our plan for the future and keep our heads cool, and when we have resolved what to do then will be time to announce some definite plan."

THE MAN WHO SAVES YOU MONEY

TEXAS BANKERS ISSUE ULTIMATUM ON COTTON

ONE-FOURTH ACREAGE CUT DEMANDED ACTION TO RELIEVE MARKET

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 26.—Texas bankers today issued an ultimatum to farmers to reduce their cotton acreage 25 per cent or run the risk of curtailment of loans.

This action was taken at a meeting of the Texas Bankers' Association called to adopt definite plans for meeting the present cotton depression and to carry out policies adopted at the recent conference in Memphis.

W. W. Woodson Leads Move

A resolution, embodying the plans of the association, was introduced by W. W. Woodson of Waco, chairman of the Texas cotton committee, named to carry out the Memphis plan. The resolution formed the basis for several hours discussion at the morning session of the association gathering.

The policy officially adopted by the association involves a two-headed plan. One phase of the plan is to hold at least 1,000,000 bales until the next cotton season and then market the remainder in an orderly manner The other phase is the 25 per cent acreage reduction, upon which the success of the entire plan rests, according to the resolution.

Different Plans Submitted

The several hundred bankers and cotton men who met to discuss the resolution were not all agreed upon what would be the best plan. Judge J. W. Fitzgerald of Tyler sought to amend the resolution to provide for a 25 per cent reduction or "plant not more than two-thirds of each man's cultivated land in cotton." This amendment was tabled.

Judge Fitzgerald said the resolution was "not worth a cent." He referred to the diversification in Smith County and the fact that farmers there were not planting more than 50 per cent of their land to cotton.

"You can't expect these people to further reduce when west and central Texas farmers are raising all the cotton they can," he said.

J. A. Pondrom, president of the City National Bank of Dallas, believed acreage could not be reduced by resolutions and characterized the esolutions as "colorless."

Pondrom and others derided the "flivver" tendency on the farm, declaring that too many farmers were riding around in automobiles instead of tending to their crops. He quoted from a letter written by a Collin county woman farmer to a Dallas newspaper, in which she said that "the only farmer who needs help is the farmer who has been helped too much. Many delegates said the woman had expressed the whole matter correctly.

P. L. Downs of Temple, called attention to the fact that out of 500,000 Texas farms, 140,000 have no hogs; 369,000 no sweet potatoes; 350,000 no garden; 360,000 no hay and 100,000 no poultry. He declared that the resolution did not go far enough.

Clark Pease, president of the City National Bank of Corpus Christi was among those who believed the resolution would accomplish nothing. He said there were too many banks, and advised the meeting to pass the resolution "and then go home and do some banking."

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 26.—Machinery for obtaining a reduction in next season's cotton acreage and for alleviating the present price depression was set in motion here today by the Texas Bankers association.

Conceiving the cotton problem to be primarily a banker's problem, the association in special session passed a resolution calling for a 25 per cent reduction in cotton acreage for 1927-28 and recommended withdrawal of 1,000,000 bales of Texas cotton from the market.

The association's plan which follows that suggested at the recent conference in Memphis is to create organizations in each county to be known as county cotton control organizations and through these organizations to obtain reduction pledges from the farmers.

A special committee of the association this afternoon began the work of selecting the county chairman for the entire state. These chairmen are to organize the bankers, merchants and farmers for their respective counties for the intensive work of acreage reduction and the correlating activity of withholding one bale in five for the present season.

The resolution adopted today places the bankers association on record in favor of a loan policy in which acreage reduction will be a necessary consideration. The bankers who carry out this resolution are to insist that the farmers to whom they loan money must practice balanced farming, that they abandon the time honored one-crop system, and that they try to raise their own food and feed crops.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—Murray Jackson, convicted in the Ku Klux Klan flogging of R. W. Burleson in Williamson county by Dan Moody, gubernatorial candidate, when he was district attorney in 1923, and paroled recently by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, visited the woman chief executive and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, here on Monday. He thanked her for his full pardon.

Jackson was accompanied by his father, R. M. Jackson of Taylor. He served a little more than a year of a five-year sentence. He was one of five convicted in connection with the flogging.

The governor said: "I hope that your imprisonment has not hardened you, and I hope that you have not hardened your feelings toward the world. You still have a chance for happiness in this world .Justice will out."

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

THE BUDGET TO BE ADOPTED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

It was recently recommended by the Finance Committee and unanimously adopted by the Church that we change our fiscal year from Janlary 1st, to October 1st. This change is made in order that our church year will be in keeping with the Associational year and also to enable us to get our Budget subscriptions before the rush of Christmas Holidays.

In a recent meeting of the Finance Committee the following Budget was made out, then at a call meeting of the Board of Deacons. Whereupon they heartily and unanimously approved it and recommended that the church adopt it. It was also recommended that this matter be presented at the church at a call conference Wednesday night, October 27th. There are explanations in regard to the Budget that will be presented at that meeting and if adopted by the church there will be a statement regarding these explanations real soon.

NEW LIFE AND NEW INTEREST

It is very gratifying to see the new life and interest that is being manifested in our work at this time. Our Sunday School is growing, standing well above 300 every Sunday, with a large per cent of the Sunday School pupils remaining for the preaching services. The teachers are taking a great deal of interest in their classes. Some of them are having an entertainment almost every night, and some nights several are having entertainments at the same time.

While our attendance is very good we are happy to see the grade of our work continuing high. And especially to see the grade of the teachers and officers staying high. The officers and teachers in the Adult Department fell below a passing grade last Sunday, all the others made a passing grade.

A CORRECTION

In giving the official family of the church last week Mrs. Slocomb was given as director of the Junior B. Y. P. U. Mrs. Slocomb is director of the Intermediate B. Y. P. U. and Mrs. Fanning is the director of the Junior B. Y. P. U. Mrs. Fanning has been doing a very able and efficient work with the Juniors for some time and we are sorry that her name was omitted in the official Family last week.

LOYALTY WEEK

It was discussed in the Deacons meeting last week and agreed that it would be good for us to have a loyalty week in our church before long. There will be publicity given to this meeting and we are earnestly hoping that in that week every member of our church will be loyal to the entire program.

THE PIANISTS

We are glad to have Miss Helen Flinn back at the piano after several months absence. Miss Helen has filled this place ably and to the delight of the church for some time.

In the absence of Miss Helen, Miss Cornelia Gunn, the assistant pianist, has very effectively served in this responsible place. Miss Cornelia has been very faithful and her services have been very thoroughly acceptable and pleasing to the entire church.

Now that Miss Helen is back, she and Cornelia have arrangments of their own where-by the time at the piano will be divided. Neither of them care to take the full responsibility of playing at each service. So they will see to it that one or the other will be at the piano for each service.

Both of these young ladies wish the statement to be made that there has never been the slightest misunderstanding or bad feeling in regard to this work. But on the other hand there has been a perfect understanding between pianist and the pastor. We three agree that there has never been the slightest ill feeling or the lack of understanding between any of us. Even though there has been some talk to the contrary.

H. E. CLUB NEWS

The H. E. Club met Tuesday, October 19, at 4 o'clock. The minutes and roll call were read and as there was no business transactions to be made, immediate work was begun on the residential houses for the miniature city, which the H. E. girls are going to found. One house fashioned from clay by two members of the club, having been completed, was voted upon to see if it would be accepted in our city. It was accepted. Various other houses, made of cardboard principally, were steadily climbing upwards when the club was dismissed at 5 o'clock.

The H. E. Club was most delightfully entertained with a Halloween party at the home of two fellow members, Misses Lois and Ruby Robbins, on Friday night, October 22. The house was appropriately decorated with illuminated and grinning black and orange Jack O'lanterns, black cats and bowls of cosmos, which artistically finished the Halloween color scheme, were placed in various places. Red and shining apples were tied on the ends of long strings which hung from the window sills and door sills. Those who came to the part, were garbed as ghosts, witches or in Halloween costume. The darkened parlor presented a panorama consisting of white apparitions and black witches sitting in a circle, when themost competent fortune teller, Madame Halloween, alias Mrs. C. R. Phillips, arrived. The party of ghosts and witches were then entertained by her with a very interesting and true ghost story. Madame Halloween then departed to her cozy booth to await those who would know their future life. Only one party at a time was allowed to go to the fortune teller, and while waiting for each guest to get their fortune told interesting games were played. "What Time is It?", a rather tricky game, was played and then each guest chose one of the apples suspended in the air, and upon succeeding in biting the apple without using her hands was allowed to eat it as her reward. A bowl with black cats, each cat being cut in two pieces, was then passed around, and each guest was allowed to choose one piece of her cat. Each birl then found the partner who had the other part of her cat, and were partners during the eating of refreshments. The partners then marched through the dining room to the built in shelves, between the kitchen and dining room which served very uniquely as a dumb waiter. Each guest received a plate of very delectable refreshments. The menu was as follews: Goblin sandwiches, hot chocolate and marshmallows. "Spin the Pan" was then played during the serving of sugared popcorn and jelly bean candies. The party ended at a late hour and all guests reported having had a most delightful time. H. E. Girls Entertain Faculty

The H. E. Girls entertained the faculty with a Halloween box party Monday October 25 at 7:30 p. m. The guests were first entertained by the hostesses in the Halloween decorated kindergarten room. In the main hall were H. E. girls, representing gypsies who sang to the accompaniment of a ukelele. A ghosty skeleton flitted up and down the hall causing much screaming among the guests by attempting to drag them off as victims. The guests then descended to the basement which in semi-darkness presented a ghostly view. A circle of white ghosts were in one corner of the room, the maids in another, the gypsies in a semi-circle, and two, tall black witches predominated the scene. The guests formed a circle and were told by the witches, in hoarse tones, to choose partners to go through spook land. The gypsies led the guests to the foot of the stairs where spook land began, and were told to follow the stairs and halls to the other end of the building where they would be served punch. The stairs and halls, habited by white ghosts, who sent quivers of fear down the guests' back. The excited guests, having visited spook land, descended to the dining room. Halloween place cards on the long table designated the seat for each guest. At each place was an orange colored box. Upon opening the boxes the guests were pleasantly surprised by the contents. A plate containing goblin sandwiches, orange straws, doughnuts, and an attractive Halloween salad were inside. The guests were then served throughout the course by maids wearing yellow caps and aprons. The menu served was as follows: Goblin sandwiches, doughnuts, Halloween salad, popcorn, hot chocolate, candy, pineapple ice and cheese straws. While at the table the guests were uniquely entertained. A gypsy dance was given by Sue Griffin Webb. Blackened hollow walnuts contained verses which were read aloud by each guest. A game called "Biography" was then played by the guests. Fortunes were then given out by two witches to the guests. The game "Black Cat" caused much excitement among the guests and the winners received a box of candy as prizes. "Gathering Nuts" was the last game played.

The party ended about 9:45 and the guests reported a very enjoyable evening.

LARGEST CROP ON RECORD SHOWN IN PRODUCTION FIGURES

New York, Oct. 25.—A break in cotton price approximately $1.50 a bale today after publication of the government crop forecast of 17,454,000 bales, the largest on record, was recovered before the large volume of trade buying. The market closed at slight advances over the final figures last Saturday.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Predicting the largest crop ever grown, the department of agriculture today placed the indicated production at 7,454,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

That is 827,000 bales more than indicated on October 1 and exceeds the previous record crop by more than a million and a quarter bales. Reports from all parts of the cotton belt showed that the cotton production this year that the yield of lint cotton per acre is greater than had been expected and would be approximately 176.8 pounds, or 8.3 pounds more than indicated on October 1. The heavy yield combined with the largest acreage ever planted resulted in the huge production.

Extensive defoliation of the cotton plants by the leaf worm, coupled with warm weather have advanced the maturing of the late bolls and permitted rapid picking, the department said.

Ginning to October 18 totalled 8,722,066 running bales, compared with 9,618, 946 bales to that date last year.

The indicated production by states follows:

State—	No. Bales.
Virginia	45,000
North Carolina	1,100,000
South Carolina	1,170,000

Birmingham, Ala., Oct.—Alabama bankers, planters and business interests here today agreed to organize a million dollar finance corporation to hold 300,000 of the state's cotton crop for 18 months or longer. The action was at the suggestion of Eugene Meyer, personal representative of President Coolidge, and A. C. Williams of the federal loan board. The conference also agreed to wage a vigorous campaign to cut next year's cotton acreage 25 per cent.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Experiments performed by the University of Hawaii in Honolulu have established the fact that both the fresh and the canned pineapple are excellent sources of all the vitamins, and that the hydrogen iron concentratio nof pineapple juice shows a value greater even than canned tomatoes.

Three Grades of Pineapple on Market

It should be helpful to the housewife to know that there are three grades and two different styles of canned Hawaiian pineapple from which she may choose when doing her marketing. The "Fancy" grade is the best, as the ripest fruit, the most golden in coloring and the most attracticely sliced is used and a larger amount of sugar is added. The next best is the "Standard" which is really almost as good as the Fancy and sells at a slightly lower price. The third grade is the "Broken" pineapple, meaning that those pieces that are broken in the slicing machine or elsewhere are separated and sold at a reduction in price even though they may and in some respects, is superior to be perfect otherwise.

Two varities of canned pineapple are the sliced and the crushed. The latter is made from the pieces that are broken too badly to be packed in slices and of the bits cut from the inside of the shells. It is exceedingly juicy, palatable and useful product, the sliced as there is more weight of pineapple in the can.

Pineapple juice is the last product of the cannery, and is the natural juice of the fruit heated just enough to keep it from spoiling. It is considered a delightful addition to lemonades and fruit punches.

CAMERON LOSES TO BRYAN HERE FRIDAY

YOEMEN HOLD VISITORS TO THIN VICTORY 6 TO 0 IN THRILLING GAME

Playing before the largest crowd that has assembled at the Lawless Green Athletic field this year the Yoemen went down in defeat to the Bryan Tigers from Brazos Valley. The Yoemen were seriously handicapped by the absence of Mondrik and Adams. These two men have been the tower of strength on the Yoemen defense this season. Adams went out in the game with Granger last Friday with a broken nose. Mondrik was shifted from tackle to fill Adams place at full and last Wednesday in the last scrimmage before the Bryan game the Fates again cast their shadows on the fighting Yoemen and Mondrik showed up the next morning on crutches as a result of several small bones being dislocated in his right knee. To cap this off Captain Mohler went out of the game on the third play with a dislocated shoulder. The Yoemen were now in there fighting without their regular tackles or their star full back. Although Puny Rogers and Sam Hazelwood were thrown in to fill the breach at tackle the youngsters were too inexperienced and were not in proper condition to stan dthe terrible off tackle slashes that Barron, Ramsay, McDonald and Dansby were shoving at them and in the fourth quarter Bryan carried the ball to the six yard line for the first down and goal to go. Three downs passed and the ball had not been carried over the line but lacked only two feet, Barron again hit the line and when the whistle blew it looked to the spectators that the ball was not over the line and when the Cameron tacklers moved the ball was shoved across the goal. The referee did not see them shove the ball and called it a touchdown. Dansby failed to kick goal. At this point acting captain Slocomb chose to kick when he should have received as there was only five minutes to play. And this was the final opportunity that Cameron was to have as the game ended with the ball in Bryan's possession on Cameron's thirty yard line.

Game Play by Play

First Quarter

Bryan wins the toss and chooses to defend the west goal. Cheeves kicks to Dansby, who by a pretty run brings the ball back to his own forty yard line. Dansby makes four yards around right end. Dansby makes five yards around left end. Time out for Cameron. Captain Mohler is hurt but he stays in the game. Dansby makes it a first down through left tackle. Palmero makes nine yards through left tackle and on the next play makes Bryan's second first down. Captain Mohler goes out with a dislocated shoulder. Puny Rogers replaces him. Dansby hits center for no gain. Bryan is penalized five yards for backfield being in motion before ball was passed. Dansby rips off five yards over right tackle. Bryan attempts pass but was incomplete. Cameron's ball. Ferriss hits left tackle for five yards. Smith is stopped at center for no gain. Smith gets two yards over center. Thompson punts twenty-five yards to Dansby who was tackled in his tracks. It was a high spiral and the ends were down on him by the time he received the ball. Dansby gets five yards through the line. Griffith adds another yard over left guard. Cummings fails to gain through center. Bryan makes it first down. Cummings rips off right tackle for five yards. Cummings gets another at the same place. He makes it first down on the next play. Dansby makes one yard over left tackle. Dansby hits line for no gain. Bryan passes but is broken up by Thompson. Smith tears off left tackle for eight yards and a first down. Ramsey replaces Boriskie for Bryan. Slocomb makes fifteen yards on a sweeping run around right end. It was a pretty run as he shook off several would be tacklers. Thompson is stopped in his tracks. A pass from Smith to Baskin was incomplete. Slocomb fumbles and Bryan recovers. Slocomb was attempting to pass and the Bryan player rushed him so that he made a pass that failed to pass the line of scrimmage and Bryan recovered. Time out for Cameron. McDonald makes four yards through left guard. Ramsey hits the same place for a first down. Palmero gets one yard over right guard. McDonald goes off left tackle for 4 yards. Bryan has discovered Cameron's weak spots and are hammering them. Palmero lost a yard on attempt to go through center. Cheeves, Cameron center, is playing the greatest game of his high school career. Dansby makes five yards and a first down. McDonald is stopped for no gain on a line play. Burns replaces Moorman for Cameron. Dansby is tackled by Cheeves for no gain. BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

3 Cupfuls Flour
6 Teaspoonfuls Baking Powder
½ Teaspoonful Salt
½ Tablespoonful Sugar
3 Tablespoonfuls Snowdrift
Enough Parts Milk and Water (about a Cupful)

Sift together the dry ingredients, then rub in the Snowdrift with the fingertips or the back of the mixing-spoon, until the mixture looks flaky. Pour in equal parts of milk and water to moisten—approximately a cupful—then quickly turn the mixture onto a slightly floured board and pat or roll it to one-half inch in thickness. Shape into rounds with the biscuit cutter, tucking under the edges as you work, so there will be no remnants. Place, scarcely touching, on a baking-pan oiled with Snowdrift, and bake in a quick oven, 375 degrees F., about fifteen minutes. Thin biscuits will bake in ten minutes.

If you do not care for baking powder biscuits try Snowdrift in your favorite biscuit recipe. The goodness of the biscuits will say more for Snowdrift than words can.

MOODY DEPLORES THE PARDON OF KLANSMAN

SCORES GOVERNOR FOR FREEING NOTED FLOGGER IN BURLESON CASE

Austin, Oct. 26.—Dan Moody, gubernatorial candidate, and eight other attorneys who prosecuted Murray Jackson of Taylor in 1923 for connection with the flogging of H. W. Burleson by Ku Klux Klansmen, issued a 1,000-word statement Tuesday declaring the clemency extended to him by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson is regarded by them as a misapplication of the pardon power.

Jackson was pardoned last week after serving less than a year of a 5 year sentence.

The statement issued with the granting of the pardon by the governor was declared erroneous by the statement signed by Dan Moody, who was district attorney for Travis and Williamson counties when Jackson was convicted, and H. N. Graves, D. W. Wilcox, J. F. Taulbee, Richard Critz, S. J. Reinhardt, W. H. Nunn, E. H. Lawhorn and A. S. Evans, all of Williamson county.

"Graves of Georgetown and Judge Critz of Taylor are attorneys for the house investigation committee at Austin. Wilcox of Georgetown is chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee under the Moody banner; Taulbee, Nunn and Reinhardt are of Georgetown and Lawhorn and Evans are of Taylor.

It was denied that the state's attorney in the case agreed to recommend a pardon for Jackson after he served one year and the entire case is briefly reviewed.

Statement Erred

"In connection with the recent pardon of Murray Jackson, who had been convicted to what is commonly referred to as one of the flogging cases from Williamson county, a statement was made purporting to come from the Governor," the statement said, "The statement as published is erroneous and in fairness to the people, the grand jury that indicted Jackson, the court that tried him and the jury that convicted him, these errors should be corrected.

"The statement is prefaced by the allegation that Mr. Jackson had served practically a year of his sentence in the penitentiary at the time of his granting of the pardon. We know nothing what allowances of time may have been made to him by those charged with the management of the penitentiary affairs, but as to the actual service made on his five-year sentence, the following is submitted from the court records:

"He was convicted in September, 1923, and his punishment fixed at 5 years in the penitentiary. The appeal was filed in the court of criminal appeals on January 21, 1924; it was submitted to the court of January 7, 1925. the case was affirmed in May, 1925; it was heard on a motion for rehearing on December 16, 1925; at which time Senator Joe Burkett appeared as attorney for Jackson; the motion for rehearing was denied on January 27, 1926; an application to stay themandate of the court of criminal appeals was filed February 2, 1926, and such application was denied on March 3 1926, and the mandate of the Court of Criminal appeals directing that the judgment and sentence of the trial court be executed was issued on March 12, 1926. Soon after this last date Mr. Jackson began to serve his sentence, and it is apparent that he had actually served approximately seven months of a five-year term.

templation of the greater life.

The tribute paid to him by the pastor on Sunday afternoon in the church where for a quarter century he had worshipped, proving his faithfulness throughout the years, was touching.

The pastor related his experience, having visited with the deceased during his last few days of illness. Mr. Mangum, the pastor said, had felt certain of the time when the end should come and said that he had nothing to fear was secure in the faith because he made his peace many years ago and had proven faithful in all things. His life as a member of the Baptist church is remembered with tenderness by all the membership.

The funeral was impressive because of the large number who attended, although simple in appointments which was in keeping with his modest life. The body lay in a mauve gray steel casket at the home from Saturday evening until Sunday afternoon when it was taken to the church. The funeral directed by the Coleman-Eplen funeral home was one of the most largely attended funerals in the history of Cameron.

A rich collection of rare flowers from friends came in laden with expressions of sympathy. A special choir sang sweetly the old songs of his faith. The pastor paid a high tribute to the departed, reviewing at length his life and work.

The procession to Oak Hill was ended as the late October sun, gentle in its warmth flooded the old oaks, caressing for a time the flowers clustered in banks about the grave.

TEXAS BANKERS FORM COTTON FINANCE PLAN

WORKING FUND OF HUNDRED MILLION AVAILABLE SAYS FINANCIERS

Dallas, Oct. 27.—With the completion of plans for a Texas cotton finance corporation here Wednesday, six states are now organized with a total capital of $10,000,000, which means, it was stated, that a working fund of $100,000,000 of credit becomes immediately available through the United States Farm Loan board for the retiring of 4,000,000 bales of cotton for a period of 18 months.

Texas leads with the formation of a $5,000,000 corporation, which forms the basis of $50,000,000 of credit, or half of the total for the south. North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and a combination of Louisiana and southern Mississippi have formed corporations of $1,000,000 each

Formation of the Texas corporation was authorized by a special committee of the Texas Bankers' Association, which held over from Tuesday's state meeting, after it had met with Eugene Meyer, chairman of President Coolidge's cotton commission, who arrived in Dallas early Wednesday from Birmingham. He was accompanied by A. C. Williams chairman of the Federal Farm Loan board, who assisted him in outlining the plan adopted.

The plan, as presented, makes possible borrowing money at a very low rate of interest from the intermediate credit bank and issuing $10 worth of credit for each $1 of actual capital stock subscribed to the corporation This will make available a $50,000,000 working fund for the retiring of the cotton for from 18 to 20 months or longer on warehouse receipt security and proper insurance subject to the immediate supervision of the Federal Farm Loan board.

In other words, it was explained, the chattel mortgagees or crop loans now in the hands of the country banker can be exchanged for long-time notes which will be taken over by the intermediate credit bank. In case it should become necessary to extend the credit more than 20 months, it was stated by Judge H. M. Gossett, president of the Intermediate credit bank at Houston, this can be arranged for.

The committee which will be appointed by President Charles A. Fisk of the Texas Bankers' Association will work out the details as to what sums will be advanced the growers upon delivery of their cotton. It will be not less than $45 to $50 a bale, it was stated.
